NATIONAL HARMONISATION OF WORK HEALTH AND SAFETY LAWS

The national harmonisation of work health and safety laws across Australia aims to;

- ensure uniform, equitable and effective safety standards and protections for workers
- address compliance and regulatory burdens for employers with operations in more than one jurisdiction
- contribute to reductions in the incidence of death, injury and disease in the workplace.

The Queensland Work Health and Safety Act 2011, based on harmonised model work health and safety legislation, was passed by the Queensland Parliament on 26 May 2011.

The Queensland WHS Act 2011 is scheduled to take effect from 1 January 2012 onwards, accompanied by new regulations based on harmonised model WHS regulations, and new codes of practice.

This Workplace Health and Safety Queensland presentation will cover the Queensland WHS Act 2011, including important changes, the model WHS regulations and the new codes of practice.
